

Intro

I'm longing for that glorious day

When Jesus shall appear my homesick heart is heavy

For the day to finally get hear

I'll leave my cares and burdens

On this side of the river

No more goodbyes will have to say oh I want to go

CH1

It will be joy and peace

On the other side of that river

Happy home in sky will never have to Rome

No tear or crying only gladness will be known

I can hardly wait for the glorious day

When I reach that happy home

Inter

VS2

I have loved ones over yonder

In that happy home

And a mansion in that heaven

That I shall call my own

The Savior He will welcome

As I cross that rolling tide

He'll say well done my servant

You have reach your home on high

CH2

It will be joy and peace

On the other side of that river

Happy home in sky will never have to Rome

No tear or crying only gladness will be known

I can hardly wait for the glorious day

When I reach that happy home

CH3

It will be joy and peace

On the other side of that river

Happy home in sky will never have to Rome

No tear or crying only gladness will be known

I can hardly wait for the glorious day

When I reach that happy home
